The Reggio Emilia Approach to Education

A brick building, nestled in the community of Reggio Emilia, Italy. The anticipation and excitement begin as you walk through the door and see the merriment and wonder of children's work, lights dancing on the walls and ceilings, and hallway piazzas as places for children and families to meet and play. You see and hear it; the flow of children's laughter, hushed whispers and joyful encounters as children interpret their environment and explore materials together. This is the life of a child care program in Reggio Emilia, Italy. Discover the origin and the many components of the Reggio Emilia Approach that make this an outstanding approach to education. Join us on our journey as we explore and learn through the eyes of the citizens and children of Reggio Emilia!

Infant/Toddler/Twos

9-19-18

Bodies and Potties: Body Consciousness and Potty Training for Infants and Toddlers

One way children learn about their world is through their bodies and physical experiences. Learning about their bodies is no exception. We will discuss strategies for how to talk with young children appropriately as they become more aware of their bodies and its parts beyond just their fingers and toes. Part of developing this "body consciousness" includes the potty training process. The signs that children are ready to start the transition from diapers to using the potty will be shared as well as guidelines and strategies for successful potty training experiences. This training provides information that supports the ITERS-R subscales: Personal Care Routines, Listening and Talking, Interactions and Program Structure.

Time: 6:30-8:30

Location: Randleman Senior Center, 144 W Academy St, Randleman, NC 27317

ITS/SIDS

7-10-18

ITS-SIDS (Infant/Toddler Safe Sleep & Sudden Infant Death Syndrome)

This required training explains all the parts of North Carolina's SIDS Law. Participants will review information about when and how to use the approved waivers, how to best place a baby in bed to sleep, and other "Best Practice" recommendations. During the workshop, participants will get the needed information to create a Safe Sleep Policy, updated research about SIDS, and local health and safety resources. Participants also will be walked through how to do an unresponsive infant drill and the reason for doing them regularly.

Exploring the Reggio Emilia Approach to Early Childhood Education: How Do I Begin?

Course Dates:

Asynchronous class opens (online, in Blackboard LMS) September 8, 2018 and closes September 29, 2018

9-22-18: Field Trip to Harmony Place

Reggio Emilia is a city in northern Italy which is internationally known for its approach to early childhood education. In this class, students will explore the origin and features of the Reggio Emilia approach, with a focus on getting started with Reggio. Through online modules and discussion, students will explore the origin and philosophy of the approach, as well Reggio-inspired practices. Learning is enhanced through a mandatory field trip to a Reggio-inspired school and post-field trip reflections. This is CPCC's third continuing education class related to the Reggio Emilia approach. These classes are non-sequential; students do not have to have completed prior classes in order to register for this class.

Objectives:

- Discuss the origin of the Reggio Emilia approach to early childhood education.
- Identify several features of the Reggio Emilia approach to early childhood education.
- Discuss one school's efforts to engage with the Reggio Emilia approach to early childhood education.
- Discuss opportunities and challenges associated with getting started with Reggio.

Content:

- Students will complete online modules.
- Students will participate in online discussions.
- Students will participate in a mandatory field trip to a Reggio-inspired environment.

Outdoor Learning Environment

8-7-18

Growing up Wild: Session I

8-14-18

Growing up Wild: Session II

(Targets children 3-7 years)

Growing Up WILD is an early childhood education program that builds on children's sense of wonder about nature and invites them to explore wildlife and the world around them. Through its materials and training programs, it demonstrates how early childhood learning objectives can be reached through use of the outdoors and nature-themed activities combined with art, music, and play. It also builds the confidence of early childhood educators to lead outdoor explorations by providing ready-made activities, easily digestible background information, and high quality personal training programs. All participants receive an activity guide with 27 hands-on, nature based activities.

Planning and Portfolios-Session I

7-19-18

Planning and Portfolios-Session II

Session I

Planning; The Struggle is Real!

In this session, participants will discuss the struggles they face that make lesson planning a challenge, as well as brainstorm some solutions for those challenges. We will focus on child development milestones and practice using Curriculum and NC Foundations to support the implementation of developmentally appropriate lesson plans. Participants will explore their own learning styles and examine how to identify children's learning styles to better inform how the environment can be used as a 'third teacher'. While lesson planning is the focus of this session, there will be a second session offered in July that will focus on how we make connections between lesson plans and creating portfolios. Please join us for both sessions!

Session II

Portfolios; You DO Have Time!

This session will allow participants to explore various ways to make learning visible. We will discuss how to highlight some of the learning experiences taking place in our classrooms. If portfolios seem daunting, think again! This session will give you a new and exciting outlook on how to share some of the hard work you put into creating rich opportunities for our young learners!

9-27-18

Introduction to Pre-K CLASS: Session II

The Classroom Assessment Scoring System (CLASS) is an observation tool that focuses on the effectiveness of classroom interactions among teachers and children, because it is the daily interactions that promote children's social and cognitive development. Children thrive when teacher create nurturing, well-managed settings and provide frequent and engaging opportunities to learn. The CLASS describes three broad domains of effective teacher-child interactions. Each session will provide in-depth conversations with video clips to view for each domain.

Requirement: Attend both sessions.
